

A check list from Romans 12:9-21

- Do I think of myself more highly than I ought?
- Am I devoted to the members of Abbotsford Anglican in brotherly love or are they just people I meet on a Sunday?
- Do I honour others above myself or do I wait for them to honour me first?
- Am I joyful or a miserable Christian?
- Do I need to work on being patient in affliction or am I a constant complainer?
- Am I faithful in prayer? Do I promise to pray for others but then forget?
- Do I share with God's people who are in need or am I stingy?
- When was the last time I practiced hospitality for a member of church?
- Am I quick to bless those who persecute me or do I curse them?
- Do I rejoice with those who rejoice or can't be bothered?
- Do I let myself mourn with those who mourn or am I afraid to take time to care?
- Am I working with living in harmony with others or do I just think about me and what I want?
- Am I proud, not willing to associate with some people? Am I conceited?
- Do I repay those who do evil to me with good or do I hope that evil will happen to them?
- Am I careful to always do what is right for others or do I shun away or go with the crowd.
- Do I work at living at peace with everyone or am I a person who is quick to look for revenge?
